

TRICK OR TREAT

By Rachel Loveday

I was never a big believer in Halloween but my little boy is. He's always loved dressing up but the fact he can dress up and get free chocolate—of course he's a big believer! Because I've had cancer for the last few years so I haven't been able to trick or treat with him, but now I'm cancer free and I'm going to accompany my little Elvis (his real name is Sam) around the neighbourhood for trick or treating tomorrow afternoon. I can't wait!
